

Acts 26:18

"To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me."

What a blessing it is to write to you with an update from Atlantic City Baptist Church! Since our first service on August 17th, we've seen the Lord work in ways that echo the heart of Acts 26:18—opening eyes, turning hearts, and drawing souls into His marvelous light.

Just one week after that first service, we launched a Tuesday night men's Bible study. Though small in number, these gatherings have been rich in fellowship and truth. One of the men who has faithfully attended made a profession of faith during one of these studies—praise God for His saving grace!

As hunger for the Word grew, several in the church asked for more opportunities to study Scripture together. In response, we began a weekly midweek prayer and Bible study service on Thursday nights in mid-September. These gatherings have averaged around 30 attendees, and has given greater opportunity for strengthening and growth in the Lord.

We rejoice in what God has done, and look ahead with faith. Would you join us in prayer for these specific needs?

- For those who need to take the next step of baptism—to boldly declare their faith
- For a prospective building that would allow us to grow and serve more effectively
- For new converts to be discipled and rooted in the Word
- For the city of Atlantic City—that light would pierce the darkness

Thank you for your faithful support, encouragement, and prayers. Your partnership is helping us reach a city in need of hope, truth, and transformation. We press on, knowing that the same God who opened our eyes is still in the business of turning hearts toward Himself.

In Christ's service,
